

Jacob Schur, DPT

Bio

Jake completed his undergraduate degree in Kinesiology at Pennsylvania State University, then went on to complete his Doctorate in Physical Therapy at Arcadia University. While in physical therapy school, Jake became interested in working with people with shoulder and knee injuries, completing research that has been published in the Journal of Clinical Biomechanics. After graduating from physical therapy school, Jake spent time working as a traveling physical therapist, spending time in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Wyoming, and California, before joining OrthoCarolina in 2022.

CLINICAL SPECIALTIES

Education

Pennsylvania State University- Bachelor of Science, Kinesiology

Arcadia University- Doctor of Physical Therapy

Research

Shah, K. M., Madara, K. C., Diehl, I., Hyer, M., Schur, J., & McClure, P. W. (2020). Shoulder muscle force and electromyography activity during make versus break tests. Clinical Biomechanics, 80, 105189.