

Jon Hendershot, PA-C

Bio

Jon currently has over 20 years of experience in orthopedics, starting in 2004 in New Jersey. He began his career assisting in all areas of orthopedics, including sports medicine, total joints, spine, and trauma. He joined OrthoCarolina in 2016 where he now specializes in hip and knee reconstruction. Jon completed his undergraduate degree at Stockton University before earning his PA-C from Des Moines University. He is very passionate about helping his patients regain mobility and return to their normal activity levels.

Jon is a proud girl dad of two daughters and enjoys spending quality time with his family on the weekends. In his spare time, you can find him trying new recipes in the kitchen, on the smoker, and at the grill.

"Life is motion."
